Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to replace the current 30mph default speed limit on restricted roads with a 20mph limit.

Fully Supportive

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to replace the current 30mph default speed limit on restricted roads with a 20mph limit.

Please explain the reasons for your response

Playing Out began in Bristol in 2010 as a community project, trialling the idea of short, resident-led road closures to allow children to play out freely and safely on their street after school. It aimed to address the urgent problems of children's lack of freedom to get around their streets, neighbourhoods and public spaces. These problems and restrictions are largely caused by traffic. The density and speed of traffic in residential streets presents danger to children and erodes confidence in playing outside in streets. Bristol City Council's Temporary Play Street Policy, launched in 2011, allows residents to apply for street play road closures regularly, and this model has now spread across the UK, including into Scotland. There is a growing body of evidence about the benefits to children's health and wellbeing from spending time outdoors - and in cities, this often means in the built environment. University of Bristol research has demonstrated increases in children's physical activity levels when they have access to safe space outside their front doors. http://plavingout.net/wp-content/uploads/2015/04/Bristol-University-Outdoors-And-Active-Evidence-Briefing.pdf We know from the experiences of parents and neighbours of all ages who are involved in playing out on their streets, that 20mph is widely supported. We also know from feedback from adults and children who take part in playing out sessions, that lower traffic speeds are seen as a necessary condition for active, safe, more independent journeys around neighbourhoods by children and families. These 'next stage' journeys are widely seen as the natural progression from playing out and something children need and deserve. This quote from a street organiser sums up this view and is held by many residents involved in street play, as well as by Playing Out as an organisation: "Playing out sessions have given the children on my street a chance to build up practical skills in cycling and scooting, and a chance to get to know their street better. In a way, playing out when the street has 'road closed' signs and stewards is like their 'nursery slopes' where they practise before making other journeys. In my view 20mph is absolutely essential if they are to make those journeys to the shops, the park and to friends' houses safely. They have this right and we need to ensure the conditions are there for them to be active and independent around their city."

Q2.	Could the aims of thi	s proposal be better	delivered in anothe	r way (without a	Bill in the Scottish
Parli	iament)?

No

Q3. What do you think would be the main advantages, if any, of the proposal?

Health and wellbeing of residents Children's increased independent mobility Children's increased ability to play outside

Reduced car use and emmissions (as more people walk and cycle due to safer roads)

Increased use of local shops

Increased community cohesion due to better use of streets as social spaces

Q4. What do you think would be the main disadvantages, if any, of the proposal?

None.

Q5. What other measures do you think would be needed to maximise compliance with the new national 20mph speed limit on restricted roads, for example in relation to advertising signage and police enforcement.

We have found in Bristol that lack of police enforcement is an issue and that even spot checks could make a big difference to how seriously the new limit is taken and complied with. However, the right kind of social marketing is equally important to ensure people understand and are supportive of the reasons behind the change. People need to see the advantages for themselves and their family. Putting children's wellbeing, freedom and safety at the heart of messages could really help with this.

Q5. What other measures do you think would be needed to maximise compliance with the new national 20mph speed limit on restricted roads, for example in relation to advertising signage and police enforcement.

The 'playing out' model of temporary road closures for children to play freely in their own street can actually help increase this understanding and support amongst residents as they see for themselves the advantages of a safer street that has wider uses than simply transporting vehicles. Promoting this model to local authorities could be one way to help increase support and compliance.

Other physical changes to streets - for example, 'DIY streets', where planters and other low-cost measures can help create a sense of streets being 'shared spaces' where cars do not dominate - have also been shown to have a significant impact on speed and driver behaviour.

Q8. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on the following protected groups (under the Equality Act 2010): race, disability, sex, gender re-assignment, age, religion and belief, sexual orientation marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity?

Positive

Q8. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on the following protected groups (under the Equality Act 2010): race, disability, sex, gender re-assignment, age, religion and belief, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity?

Please explain the reasons for your response

In particular, older people, children, pregnant women and those with disabilities would undoubtably benefit from having increased ability to get around their streets safely.

Q9. Could any negative impact of the proposed Bill on any of these protected groups be minimised or avoided?

No Response

Page 16: Sustainability of the proposal

Q10. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impact?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response:

A default 20mph limit could be much cheaper and simpler to deliver and maintain, as opposed to individually designated streets, which could require much more signage etc.

Page 17: General

Q11. Do you have any other comments or suggestions on the proposal to establish a 20mph default speed limit on restricted roads?

No Response
