Page 7: Your views on the proposal

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to replace the current 30mph default speed limit on restricted roads with a 20mph limit.

Fully Supportive

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to replace the current 30mph default speed limit on restricted roads with a 20mph limit.

Please explain the reasons for your response

There should be a consistent application of 20mph limits across the country, not just in some council areas. I live in Fife where basically all of the residential streets and some main roads are 20mph, but other parts of the country do not have the same policy.

Q2. Could the aims of this proposal be better delivered in another way (without a Bill in the Scottish Parliament)?

No

Q3. What do you think would be the main advantages, if any, of the proposal?

Ensuring consistency across Scotland and requiring councils to consider whether current 30mph main routes really need to be increased back to 30mph or if they could be kept at 20mph.

Q4. What do you think would be the main disadvantages, if any, of the proposal?

Replacement of signs?

Q5. What other measures do you think would be needed to maximise compliance with the new national 20mph speed limit on restricted roads, for example in relation to advertising signage and police enforcement.

Perhaps some traffic calming measures for roads on which 20mph seems too slow, LED boards showing drivers their speed, police acting on information from the public to patrol at times where speeding is most prevalent

Q8. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on the following protected groups (under the Equality Act 2010): race, disability, sex, gender re-assignment, age, religion and belief, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity?

Neutral (neither positive nor negative)

Q9. Could any negative impact of the proposed Bill on any of these protected groups be minimised or avoided?

No Response
