Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to replace the current 30mph default speed limit on restricted roads with a 20mph limit.

Fully opposed

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to replace the current 30mph default speed limit on restricted roads with a 20mph limit.

Please explain the reasons for your response

A blanket approach does not work. If every road is 20 there will be no change in speed limit outside schools etc meaning there will be no active thought in a driver's head to slow down. The likelihood is they will be driving over 20 as the survey's have shown since the roll out. It also causes more pollution

Q2. Could the aims of this proposal be better delivered in another way (without a Bill in the Scottish Parliament)?

Yes (if so, please explain below)

Please explain the reasons for your response

Scrap it

Q3. What do you think would be the main advantages, if any, of the proposal?

None

Q4. What do you think would be the main disadvantages, if any, of the proposal?

The entire proposal is flawed. Look at Manchester, they stopped the roll out of 20mph.

Q5. What other measures do you think would be needed to maximise compliance with the new national 20mph speed limit on restricted roads, for example in relation to advertising signage and police enforcement.

There is such a thing as the 85th percentile. This is where 85 percent of the public will drive the road at a speed they see fit. If you have a 4 lane road in each direction and make it 20 people will speed as it is safe to drive faster than that. You will always have some people who drive dangerously etc but that is impossible to stop.
